1610 – STURT

Poly-Olbion: A Chronologic Description of Great Britain

By Michael Drayton Published 1610

And, since, distressed Lee I haue been left forlorne,
A by-word to each Brook, and to the World a scorne.

When Sturt, a Nymph of hers (whose faith she oft had prov'd,
And whom, of all her traine, Lee most intirely lov'd)

Least so excessive griefe, her Mistresse might invade,
 Thus (by faire gentle speech) to patience doth perswade :

 Doth recompence your Bank, with quantitie of foyle,
 Befet with ranks of Swans ; that, in their wonted pride,
 Do prune their snowy plumes vpon your pleasant side.
 And Waltham wooes you still, and smiles with wonted cheere :
 And Tames as at the first, so still doth hold you deer.
 To much beloued Lee, this scarcely Sturt had spoke,
 But goodly Londons fight their further purpose broke :
